

Interdisciplinary 100—LA

Research Methods for Chicana/o Studies and Latin American & Iberian Studies

Winter 2005
Monday—Wednesday 1:00-1:50
Davidson Library 1414c

INT 100 is a 2-unit course designed to teach in-depth research strategies to graduate students and upper-division undergraduates.

Students will critically examine the research tools for Chicana/o Studies & LAIS and should be concurrently enrolled in a course with a research project requirement.

For more information contact:
Anne C. Barnhart
Librarian for Religious Studies, Chicana/o Studies and Latin American & Iberian Studies
abarnhar@library.ucsb.edu
893-4719

Limited enrollment; register early

