

Open Access & Graduate Students

Guest speakers explore findings & implications in these talks sponsored by the UCSB Library and Graduate Division.

Investigating Graduate Student Awareness of and Use of Open Access Resources

April 25, 12pm
Library classroom 1575

Regina M. Beard

Faculty and Graduate Services
Librarian, Kansas State University

Beard will share the results of a survey she conducted investigating graduate student awareness of and interest in open access resources for research and publishing. She will discuss how her findings might inform graduate student education on scholarly communication and 'free' resources.

Electronic Theses & Dissertations and the Publishing Landscape

May 5, 4pm
Library classroom 1575

Gail McMillan

Director, Digital Library and Archives,
Virginia Tech

If a dissertation or thesis is published online and made freely available, does this hinder the author's future publishing opportunities for that work? McMillan will present the results of a study of publishers attitudes toward online theses and dissertations.

Both programs are free and open to the public.

Save the date: May 15, 12pm for a brown bag program on Open Educational Resources

UC SANTA BARBARA
LIBRARY
SCHOLARLY COMMUNICATION