Allin Slate Collection

I. Introduction

Los Angeles in the 1960's and 70's was considered by many to be the sports capitol of the world. In that period, L.A. was home to the Dodgers and Angels of baseball, the NFL Rams, and the sports programs of both the UCLA Bruins and the USC Trojans. All of this plus; boxing, track and field, swimming, the Rose Bowl and thousands of minor sporting events were seen through the eyes of Allin Slate. His voice, style and intellect brought these events to Angelinos on a daily bases through the "talk radio" format which he helped to pioneer.

The Allin Slate Collection was donated to the American Radio Archives at the Thousand Oaks Library by the daughters of Mr. Allin Slate on February 22, 2000.

II. Biography

Allin Slate was born in Illinois, and grew up in Los Angeles. In an interview for Los Angeles Radio People, Slate said that, "I was the kid who sat in the bleachers and called the game." He was a radio actor before World War II and worked in dramas with Jack Webb. "I was working in the sound and lighting department at the Biltmore Bowl while studying at the Pasadena Playhouse. A waiter suggested that I try radio acting."

Allin Slate began broadcasting at KULA in Honolulu and then at Glendale Radio Station KIEV in 1950. He remained at KIEV for 12 years when he moved to Los Angeles Radio Station KABC in 1963. In 1964 Slate became the sports director of KABC. Allin Slate has been credited as the originator of the "Sports Talk," radio format popular even today. He worked with Leo Durocher and Jimmy Piersall in the mid 60's, and became a regular with Keith Jackson on Sports Scoreboard on television KABC/Channel 7 in Los Angeles.. Later Allin joined the daily lineup on KNX News radio in 1969, and remained there until his retirement in 1978.

His career had many highlights. He starred as Jason, opposite Dame Judith Anderson, in the Honolulu production of Medea; he was the two-time winner of the Associated Press, Golden Mike Award for excellence in broadcast journalism. He was honored by the Los Angeles Sentinel newspaper for showing fairness and consideration in reporting on the treatment of African American athletes in the Mexico City Olympics. Allin Slate was also past president of Southern California Sports Broadcasters Association and a long time member and supporter of AFTRA. Allin was a poet, artist and writer with a great sense of humor. Slate suffered a stroke in 1990 that slowed him down, "but did not stop him," according to his daughter Lynne Darnell. Slate had Parkinson's disease and died on July 21, 2000, at the age of 79.<sup>1</sup>

III. Scope and Content

The Allin Slate Collection of the American Radio Archives at the Thousand Oaks Library contains over 400 open reel audio tapes. About half of these tapes are recordings of the weekly luncheons of the Southern California Sports Broadcasters Association where Slate served as a president. The earliest SCSBA tape is from October 5, 1961 and the most recent is dated on February 28, 1973. The bulk of these recordings cover the years 1964-1968. The SCSBA meetings generally consisted of introductions, announcements, a "weekly report" by the head coach or field manager of whatever teams were currently in season, and then a featured speaker along with questions and answers. While there are many gaps in the tape chronology of these meetings, it is complete enough to say that practically any sporting event or sports related news in Southern California from 1964 to 1969 is covered in the collection.

The rest of the tapes are post game or on the air interviews, portions of his radio show, commercials, sound checks and many other interesting bits and pieces. The earliest date in this sequence is 1955 and the latest is in 1974. The major part of this collection covers the 1965-1967 period. There are also about 175 tapes which are not dated. These tapes contain a number of very interesting interviews. The interviewees include: Richard Nixon, John H. Glenn, Craig Breedlove, Muhammad Ali, Jack Kent Cook, Sam Yorty, Jesse Owens, and a long list of baseball, football, and basketball future Hall of Famers.

In addition, the collection contains newspaper clippings, radio station advertisements, on the air copy, correspondence, awards, event programs, photographs, and other memorabilia contained in 4 boxes (about 4 linear feet).
